

The XCS Online Edge is a hybrid program for grades 6-12 in which students utilize the Edgenuity Courseware platform. It combines the best of online learning with the advantages of regular face-to-face support from XCS teachers: Mrs. Cornett (grades 6-9) and Mrs. Snyder (grades 10-12). The program is designed for students who can effectively work independently to learn at their own pace, meet at least once a week in person with XCS teachers, and attend quarterly in-person seminars to connect with their peers.

Student Expectations

Online Edge students are expected to:

- Log in to Edgenuity and complete coursework every scheduled school calendar day in order to be counted present.
- Complete at least 1 hour of coursework per class in Edgenuity each day. Students must have a total of at least 15 hours of logged learning time in Edgenuity by the end of each school week.
- Attend weekly in-person check-in at the Online Edge Learning Lab.
- Attend weekly study groups to get support as needed.
- Attend monthly in-person seminars that focus on college & career readiness and social-emotional learning.
- Attend in-person on standardized testing days.
- Communicate regularly with your Online Edge teacher.
- Check email and the Online Edge Google Classroom daily for important updates and announcements.
- Follow the code of conduct as if they were in school; this includes dress and language.

Note that acceptance into the program requires a full-semester commitment. Students cannot change from online to in-person (either direction) mid-semester.

What About Extracurricular Activities?

Students learning through Online Edge may participate in sports and other activities. Students can keep up to date on tryouts, practices, and other critical information by registering for their sport of interest through FinalForms, and reaching out to the appropriate student advisor.

A Word About Extended Absences:

The Online Edge is not an option for quarantined students or students with an extended absence. Extended absences from in-person school will be addressed by the student's teacher and principal.
